

Black History Month Project Ideas: 201+ Good Ways to Try

 allprojectideas.com/black-history-month-project-ideas/

February 9, 2025

Explore creative Black History Month project ideas that inspire learning, reflection, and celebration. Perfect for students to engage with history and culture!

Have you ever wondered how Black history has shaped the world we live in today? Black History Month is an opportunity to reflect on the important contributions made by African Americans throughout history. From music and art to politics and social justice, Black culture has had a profound impact on society.

In fact, the history of Black Americans goes back centuries, with roots in resilience, innovation, and strength. Did you know that 1 in 4 people who contributed to inventions that changed our lives were African American? Innovators like George Washington Carver, who revolutionized agriculture, and Dr. Mae Jemison, the first African American woman in space, are just a few examples.

Black history is rich, diverse, and full of untold stories, waiting to be discovered. Whether through exploring the lives of iconic figures or learning about lesser-known moments in history, there are countless ways to celebrate and honor African American heritage.

How to Make a Black History Month Project?

---

Looking for ideas to celebrate Black History Month? Learn how to create a meaningful project that honors the past, celebrates achievements, and sparks important conversations!

Choose Your Focus Area

---

Decide if your project will focus on a person, event, movement, or theme. Consider areas like civil rights, Black culture, influential figures in history, or contemporary social justice movements.

Do Research

---

Dive deep into reliable sources. Look at books, documentaries, and scholarly articles to understand your topic better. Libraries and online resources like JSTOR or Google Scholar are good starting points.

Select the Format

---

Decide how you want to present your project. Common formats include:

- Multimedia Presentation: PowerPoint, video, or website
- Written Report: A detailed research paper or article
- Creative Project: Art, music, or poetry inspired by your topic
- Performance: Skit, play, or spoken word

Outline Your Work

---

Organize your research into sections—background information, the person/event's significance, and their impact on history or society.

Make It Engaging

---

Think about visuals, quotes, videos, or interactive elements to make your project engaging and educational.

Reflect on the Impact

---

Ensure your project highlights why the person, event, or movement you're focusing on is important today, and what we can learn from it.

What Is a Good Topic for Black History?

---

1. Civil Rights Movement: Explore the key events, figures (e.g., Martin Luther King Jr., Rosa Parks), and legislation such as the Civil Rights Act of 1964.
2. The Harlem Renaissance: A cultural, social, and artistic explosion of African American culture in the 1920s, highlighting figures like Langston Hughes, Zora Neale Hurston, and Duke Ellington.

3. Black Lives Matter Movement: Investigate the modern fight for racial justice and how the movement has influenced politics and society.
4. Slavery and Abolitionists: Focus on the history of slavery in America and the abolitionist movement, with figures like Frederick Douglass and Harriet Tubman.
5. Influential Black Women: Spotlight women like Maya Angelou, Shirley Chisholm, and Michelle Obama, exploring their impact on civil rights, politics, literature, and more.
6. Black Innovators and Pioneers: Learn about Black scientists, inventors, and leaders in various fields, such as George Washington Carver, Mae Jemison, and Dr. Charles Drew.

Who Should I Do My Black History Project On?

---

Here are a few ideas depending on your interests:

Historical Figures

---

- Martin Luther King Jr.: For his role in the Civil Rights Movement and his vision for nonviolent social change.
- Harriet Tubman: For her bravery in freeing enslaved people and her role in the Underground Railroad.
- Rosa Parks: Her act of defiance on the bus and the spark for the Montgomery Bus Boycott.

Cultural Icons

---

- Maya Angelou: For her contributions to literature and activism.
- James Baldwin: For his powerful writing and insights into race relations in America.
- Nina Simone: For her music and activism for civil rights.

Black Pioneers in Science and Technology

---

- George Washington Carver: For his groundbreaking work with peanuts and agricultural innovations.
- Dr. Charles Drew: For his pioneering work in blood banking and the establishment of blood plasma storage.
- Mae Jemison: For being the first Black woman in space.

Modern Social Justice Leaders

---

- Angela Davis: For her activism during the Civil Rights Movement and her focus on prison reform.
- Patrisse Cullors: One of the co-founders of the Black Lives Matter movement.

Entertainment Icons

---

- Sidney Poitier: The first Black actor to win an Academy Award for Best Actor.

- Oprah Winfrey: For her influence in media, philanthropy, and creating a platform for important conversations on race.
- Chadwick Boseman: For his legacy as a Black superhero and his roles that uplifted Black culture and history.

What Activities Do People Do During Black History Month?

---

1. Educational Events: Schools, universities, and organizations hold lectures, panel discussions, and book clubs that focus on different aspects of Black history and culture.
2. Cultural Celebrations: People celebrate with music, dance, and food. Events might feature African American musicians, such as jazz, gospel, and hip-hop performances, or have cooking classes highlighting dishes from the African diaspora.
3. Documentary and Film Screenings: Watch documentaries and films that celebrate Black history and culture, such as 13th, Selma, Hidden Figures, or The Pursuit of Happyness.
4. Art Exhibitions: Galleries may host exhibitions showcasing the works of Black artists, both historical and contemporary.
5. Poetry and Spoken Word Performances: Poetry slams and spoken word performances may take place to honor influential Black poets and writers, like Langston Hughes or Audre Lorde.
6. Community Volunteering: Many people use Black History Month to give back to their communities through charity events, volunteering, and supporting local Black-owned businesses.
7. Music and Dance: Events may feature performances by Black artists, highlighting genres such as jazz, blues, soul, hip-hop, and reggae.
8. Classroom Activities: Schools often focus on projects or presentations that teach students about historical figures, events, and movements, and they may hold contests, quizzes, or art projects centered around Black history.

201+ Black History Month Project Ideas & Activities For Students

---

Black History Month is a time to honor the achievements, culture, and history of Black communities worldwide. It's also a perfect opportunity to inspire and educate others on the profound impact of Black individuals in shaping the world.

Here are 201 engaging and impactful Black History Month project ideas for all ages, from creative expressions to educational initiatives:

1. Black Leaders Through History – Research and present a timeline of significant Black leaders, both historical and contemporary.
2. Artistic Expression of Black Culture – Create artwork inspired by African American history, highlighting influential moments and icons.
3. Exploring African-American Music – Dive into the origins and evolution of genres like jazz, blues, and hip-hop.

4. Black Women in History – Focus on the contributions of influential Black women throughout history.
5. Community Volunteer Project – Organize a local community service event in honor of Black History Month.
6. Film Screening and Discussion – Host a screening of a movie or documentary focused on Black history, followed by a group discussion.
7. A Tribute to Black Authors – Highlight works by celebrated Black authors and poets, exploring their impact on literature.
8. African-American Innovations – Research and present on inventions and innovations created by Black inventors that shaped modern society.
9. Celebrate Black Businesses – Create a directory or host an event showcasing Black-owned businesses in your community.
10. Exploring the Harlem Renaissance – Study and present the cultural explosion of the Harlem Renaissance and its lasting legacy.
11. Black History Month Poster Campaign – Design and distribute educational posters highlighting influential Black figures and events throughout history.
12. Create a Documentary – Interview local community members or experts about Black history and its significance in your area.
13. Celebrate Black Entrepreneurs – Research and showcase prominent Black entrepreneurs and their contributions to business and society.
14. Study the Civil Rights Movement – Create an interactive timeline or display showcasing key moments in the Civil Rights Movement.
15. Black History Quiz Night – Host a trivia night featuring questions about Black history, leaders, and cultural milestones.
16. African-American Folklore and Stories – Research and share traditional African-American folktales and their significance to the culture.
17. Black History Book Club – Start a book club centered around reading works by Black authors and discussing their cultural impact.
18. Create a Music Playlist – Curate a playlist of Black artists and songs that reflect different eras and themes in Black history.
19. Explore African Heritage and Traditions – Research and present the cultural traditions, art, and heritage of different African countries.
20. Poetry Slam Inspired by Black Writers – Organize a poetry reading or slam, where participants perform original works inspired by Black writers and activists.
21. Black History Month Fashion Show – Host a fashion show showcasing clothing and accessories inspired by iconic Black figures or cultural movements.
22. Interview a Local Black Leader – Reach out to a local Black leader, educator, or activist and interview them about their experiences and contributions.
23. Black History Month Poetry Anthology – Create an anthology of poems celebrating Black culture, history, and achievements.
24. African-American Film Analysis – Study and discuss the portrayal of Black individuals in Hollywood, with a focus on representation and progress.
25. Social Media Awareness Campaign – Create a hashtag or social media campaign educating people about Black history and important figures.

26. African-American Political Impact – Research the role of Black politicians in shaping public policy and civil rights.
27. Create a Historical Timeline – Construct a visual timeline showing pivotal events in Black history, from slavery to modern-day achievements.
28. Diversity and Inclusion Workshop – Organize a workshop to discuss race, diversity, and inclusion, with a focus on Black history and experiences.
29. Visit Local Black History Museums – Organize a trip to local museums, cultural centers, or landmarks dedicated to Black history.
30. Black History Month Art Gallery – Curate an art exhibit showcasing artwork from Black artists, highlighting their contributions to the art world.
31. Explore the Legacy of African-American Dance – Research and present on the significance of dance styles like breakdancing, the Charleston, and other culturally significant forms.
32. Create a Recipe Book of African-American Cuisine – Collect traditional African-American recipes and compile them into a cookbook for Black History Month.
33. Historical Reenactment Project – Organize a historical reenactment of a key event from Black history, such as the March on Washington or the Montgomery Bus Boycott.
34. Black History Month Virtual Tour – Design an online tour or interactive map highlighting significant landmarks related to Black history in your area.
35. Study the Impact of African-American Scientists – Research and present on the contributions of Black scientists and their innovations in fields like medicine, technology, and space exploration.
36. Black History Month-Themed Escape Room – Design a themed escape room activity where participants solve puzzles based on Black history facts.
37. Exploring African-American Theater – Study the history of Black theater and present on major works, playwrights, and performances.
38. Teach a Class on Black History – Offer a class or lecture on key aspects of Black history, whether at school, work, or in your community.
39. Host a Black History Month Talent Show – Showcase the talents of local community members through music, dance, art, and more.
40. Create a Black History Month Wall of Fame – Set up a “Wall of Fame” at school or in a public space, highlighting portraits and achievements of important Black figures.
41. African-American Activism Then and Now – Compare past and present forms of activism within the Black community, from the Civil Rights Movement to today’s social justice movements.
42. Black History Month Newsletter – Design and distribute a monthly newsletter featuring articles about Black history, events, and educational resources.
43. Celebrate Black Athletes – Create a presentation or visual display about the achievements of Black athletes in various sports.
44. Host a Black History Month Poetry Contest – Organize a poetry contest for students or community members to express their thoughts on Black history and culture.

45. Organize a Fashion and Style Exhibit – Curate an exhibit highlighting influential fashion icons from the Black community and their impact on global fashion trends.
46. Virtual Black History Month Storytelling Event – Host a virtual event where people share their personal stories about the impact of Black history in their lives.
47. Black History Month Chalk Art – Use sidewalk chalk to create murals or designs that honor Black history and culture.
48. Study the African Diaspora – Research and present on the movement of people of African descent around the world, from slavery to modern-day migration.
49. Spotlight Black Scientists and Engineers – Present on Black individuals who have made groundbreaking contributions to science, technology, and engineering.
50. Host a Black History Month Talent Show – A celebration of music, poetry, dance, and art from local talent, showcasing the diverse contributions of Black artists.
51. Explore the Impact of Hip-Hop Culture – Research the origins of hip-hop and its influence on music, fashion, and social change.
52. African-American Sports Legends – Present on iconic Black athletes who have broken barriers and reshaped the world of sports.
53. Create a Virtual Black History Museum – Develop a digital museum showcasing Black history, figures, and achievements with interactive displays.
54. Host a Black History Month Trivia Competition – Organize a fun and educational trivia competition, testing knowledge about Black history, culture, and accomplishments.
55. Study the Black Panther Party – Research the history and impact of the Black Panther Party on civil rights and social justice movements.
56. Explore Black History in Your City – Research and create a local map or guide to significant sites related to Black history in your community.
57. The Legacy of Black Inventors – Showcase inventions by Black inventors that have changed the world, from the traffic light to the blood bank.
58. Black History Month Poetry Workshop – Host a writing workshop where participants create poems inspired by Black history, culture, or influential figures.
59. Promote Black History Month in Schools – Create educational materials or presentations to teach classmates about Black history and significant figures.
60. African-American Women’s Rights Movement – Research the role of Black women in the fight for civil rights and gender equality.
61. Honoring Black Civil Rights Lawyers – Present on the work of Black lawyers and legal advocates who fought for civil rights and justice.
62. Create a Black History Month Podcast – Start a podcast series focusing on key Black history figures, events, and contemporary topics.
63. Explore African-American Folk Music – Dive into the history and impact of genres like spirituals, gospel, and blues, and their connection to Black culture.
64. Interview Black Artists and Musicians – Speak with local Black artists or musicians about their craft, inspirations, and the influence of Black culture on their work.
65. Black History Month Cooking Class – Host a cooking class where participants learn to prepare traditional African-American dishes.

66. The Evolution of African-American Fashion – Study how Black culture has shaped global fashion trends, from the Harlem Renaissance to today’s streetwear.
67. Create a Black History Month Calendar – Design a daily calendar highlighting significant Black history events, quotes, and figures.
68. Host a Black History Month Open Mic Night – Invite local talent to perform poetry, music, or monologues in celebration of Black culture.
69. Study Black History in the Military – Research the contributions of Black individuals in the military and their fight for equality and justice.
70. Black History Month in Science and Technology – Present on Black scientists, engineers, and tech innovators who have made lasting contributions to their fields.
71. Explore African-American Art Movements – Study key art movements in African-American history, from the Harlem Renaissance to contemporary street art.
72. Create an Interactive Black History Timeline – Build a hands-on timeline with significant events, people, and moments in Black history for educational purposes.
73. Promote Black History Month Through Social Media – Develop engaging posts, videos, or infographics to share on social media to educate and inspire others.
74. Spotlight Black Filmmakers and Directors – Highlight influential Black filmmakers and their contributions to the world of cinema.
75. Host a Black History Month Book Swap – Organize a book exchange focused on works by Black authors, offering a chance to explore new literature.
76. African-American Quilting Traditions – Study and present the history and significance of quilting in African-American communities, particularly in the South.
77. The Influence of Black Fashion Icons – Research and create a presentation or display on influential Black fashion designers and models.
78. Black History Month Reflection Journal – Encourage people to keep a daily journal throughout the month to reflect on the significance of Black history.
79. Host a Black History Month Fundraiser – Organize a fundraiser to support Black-led organizations or initiatives that promote equality and justice.
80. Black History and Technology Innovations – Present on African-American inventors and innovators who have revolutionized industries such as telecommunications, medicine, and computing.
81. Create a Historical Fiction Story – Write and share a fictional story inspired by key moments or figures in Black history.
82. The African-American Voting Rights Movement – Research the history of voting rights for Black Americans and its impact on modern-day elections.
83. Support Black-Owned Businesses – Organize a local shopping day to support Black-owned businesses and raise awareness of their contributions.
84. Black History Month Volunteer Project – Create a volunteer program that helps educate others about Black history or gives back to communities that celebrate African-American culture.
85. Host a Black History Month Fashion Talk – Organize a panel discussion featuring Black fashion designers or cultural critics to discuss the evolution of Black influence in fashion.

86. Explore the Black LGBTQ+ Movement – Research the intersectionality of Black and LGBTQ+ rights, highlighting the important contributions of Black LGBTQ+ activists.
87. Create a Black History Month Art Installation – Curate an installation that honors Black history, featuring artwork, photography, and multimedia pieces.
88. African-American Entrepreneurship Challenge – Host a challenge where participants pitch business ideas inspired by the legacy of Black entrepreneurship.
89. Study the African-American Labor Movement – Research the history of Black workers' rights movements and their influence on labor laws and fair wages.
90. Celebrate the Legacy of Black Protest Music – Research and present on the impact of protest music in the fight for civil rights, from blues to hip-hop.
91. Host a Black History Month Documentary Screening – Show a series of documentaries focused on various aspects of Black history and host a discussion afterward.
92. Black History Month Flashcards – Create and distribute educational flashcards with important Black history facts, figures, and milestones.
93. Explore the History of African-American Education – Research the journey of education for Black Americans and how historically Black colleges and universities (HBCUs) have shaped education.
94. Celebrate Black History Month Through Dance – Host a dance event featuring performances inspired by African-American dance styles, from swing to contemporary hip-hop.
95. Create a Black History Month Mural – Organize a mural project that highlights significant figures and moments in Black history.
96. Black History Month Scavenger Hunt – Organize a scavenger hunt focused on finding educational landmarks related to Black history and culture.
97. Highlight African-American Environmental Activism – Present on influential Black environmentalists and their efforts to protect the planet.
98. Support Black Media Projects – Donate to or promote Black-owned media outlets and projects that highlight the voices of Black individuals.
99. Create a Black History Quiz App – Develop an interactive quiz app where users can test their knowledge about Black history and its impact.
100. Explore the Legacy of the Tuskegee Airmen – Research and present on the contributions of the Tuskegee Airmen during World War II and their role in integrating the U.S. military.
101. Black History in Photography – Create a photographic project showcasing the lives, events, and culture of Black communities through the lens of African-American photographers.
102. The Great Migration Story – Research the impact of the Great Migration on urban culture and the economic landscape of the U.S., creating an informative presentation or visual project.
103. Black Music Legends – Explore the careers of iconic musicians like Aretha Franklin, James Brown, and Stevie Wonder, and their impact on both music and social change.

104. African-American Folklore Performance – Perform a piece of African-American folklore or a dramatic interpretation of an influential historical event in Black history.
105. Host a Black History Month Cultural Potluck – Organize a potluck featuring traditional dishes from African-American and African cultures, while sharing stories behind the recipes.
106. Create a Black History Month Crossword Puzzle – Design a crossword puzzle using key Black history figures, events, and terminology for educational purposes.
107. Celebrating Black Women in Science – Focus on the groundbreaking achievements of Black women in the fields of science, medicine, and technology.
108. African-American Architectural Achievements – Research and present the contributions of Black architects to the built environment and historical preservation.
109. Explore the Role of Black Veterans – Study the history of Black military service and create a presentation on Black veterans who fought in wars for freedom.
110. A Black History Month Reading Challenge – Organize a reading challenge for students or adults to read books by Black authors throughout the month.
111. Honoring African-American Educators – Research and create a tribute to Black educators who made significant contributions to the advancement of education in America.
112. Celebrate Black Artists – Host an art show or gallery featuring works from local Black artists or artists who have contributed significantly to the art world.
113. The Black Diaspora’s Influence on Global Culture – Investigate how the African Diaspora has shaped global cuisine, language, and traditions across the world.
114. Create a Black History Month Playlist – Curate a playlist of songs that have shaped and influenced Black culture, from spirituals to contemporary rap and R&B.
115. Black Lives Matter: A History of the Movement – Research and present on the origins, impact, and ongoing significance of the Black Lives Matter movement.
116. African-American Influence on Politics – Study the role of African-American leaders in U.S. politics, from local activists to national political figures.
117. Design a Black History Month Poster – Create a striking and educational poster that features important facts or quotes from prominent Black figures.
118. Spotlight the Legacy of HBCUs – Research the history and impact of Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs) in shaping the Black community and education.
119. African-American Women in Leadership – Research and present the contributions of Black women who have become leaders in various fields, including politics, business, and activism.
120. Host a Black History Month Art and History Walk – Take a walking tour through your city, highlighting landmarks, murals, and locations significant to Black history.
121. Black History Month Fashion Show – Organize a runway show featuring clothing styles and trends from influential African-American designers and artists.
122. The Role of Black Churches in the Civil Rights Movement – Study the involvement of African-American churches in social justice movements and the fight for civil rights.
123. Create a Black History Month Web Series – Produce a short series of videos that explore various facets of Black history, culture, and achievements.

124. The Significance of Black Poetry – Present on influential Black poets, such as Langston Hughes, Maya Angelou, and Audre Lorde, and their contributions to literature.
125. Host a Black History Month Cooking Show – Share cooking tutorials or live-stream recipes that celebrate traditional African-American and African cuisine.
126. Host a Panel Discussion on Race and Social Justice – Invite local activists, community leaders, or educators for a discussion on current issues surrounding race, equality, and justice.
127. Explore Black Political Leaders in U.S. History – Study key political figures such as Shirley Chisholm, Barack Obama, and Stacey Abrams and their influence on American politics.
128. The Impact of African-American Filmmakers – Investigate the work of influential Black filmmakers such as Spike Lee, Ava DuVernay, and Oscar Micheaux and their contributions to cinema.
129. Black History Month Virtual Event – Host a virtual event where experts speak on various topics related to Black history and culture, such as Black literature, civil rights, or music.
130. The Role of Black Nurses in History – Highlight the contributions of Black nurses, including pioneers like Mary Eliza Mahoney and their impact on healthcare.
131. Explore the Legacy of African-American Theater – Research and present the works of Black playwrights such as Lorraine Hansberry, August Wilson, and Tyler Perry.
132. African-American Influence in Sports – Present on the groundbreaking achievements of Black athletes in major sports like tennis, basketball, football, and track and field.
133. Black History Month Timeline Project – Build a physical or digital timeline that highlights key events in Black history from slavery to present-day accomplishments.
134. Celebrate Black Storytellers – Research and share the stories of African-American authors, oral historians, and poets whose work has enriched Black culture.
135. Create a Black History Month Fundraising Event – Organize a fundraiser to support initiatives or nonprofits dedicated to empowering Black communities.
136. Create a Black History Month Magazine – Compile articles, stories, and artwork from local artists and writers to celebrate Black culture and history.
137. Black History and Technology Innovations – Dive into the impact of Black innovators in the world of technology, from coding to invention, and highlight their groundbreaking work.
138. African-American History through Social Media – Create an Instagram or TikTok account dedicated to sharing facts, stories, and quotes that highlight key moments in Black history.
139. Explore the Role of African-Americans in the Military – Present on the history of African-American soldiers, from the Revolutionary War to the present day, and their impact on military history.

140. Host a Black History Month Open House – Organize an open house at a local community center, library, or museum where visitors can learn about Black history through exhibits and activities.
141. African-American History in Fashion – Research and present on how African-American culture has influenced global fashion, from the Harlem Renaissance to today's streetwear culture.
142. The Role of Black Philanthropy – Explore how Black philanthropists and foundations have contributed to social change, education, and equality within the African-American community.
143. Organize a Black History Month Community Service Day – Plan a day for volunteering and service in your local community, focusing on initiatives that support and uplift Black communities.
144. Study Black History in the Arts – Research the contributions of African-American artists, musicians, dancers, and filmmakers to the global arts landscape and present your findings.
145. The History of Black Family Structures – Study and present on how African-American family dynamics have evolved through history, shaped by factors such as slavery, civil rights, and contemporary culture.
146. Spotlight Black Entrepreneurs in Your Community – Create a directory or profile local Black entrepreneurs who have made a significant impact in your area.
147. Explore the Role of African-American Men in Social Justice – Highlight the activism and leadership of Black men who fought for civil rights, such as Martin Luther King Jr., Malcolm X, and John Lewis.
148. Create a Black History Month Digital Newsletter – Develop a newsletter with articles, interviews, and educational resources related to Black history and events happening in your community.
149. Black History Month Community Dance Class – Host a community dance event featuring dance styles with African-American cultural roots, such as jazz, tap, and hip-hop.
150. Study the Legacy of Black Migration Patterns – Research the history of African-American migration within the U.S. and its impact on urban culture, economics, and politics.
151. Celebrate Black History Month with Film Critique – Watch and analyze Black films or documentaries, focusing on how they portray the African-American experience and contribute to cultural understanding.
152. Host a Black History Month Art Auction – Organize an art auction that features works from Black artists, with the proceeds benefiting a Black-led charity or nonprofit.
153. The History of African-American Military Units – Research and present on the contributions of historic African-American military units, such as the Buffalo Soldiers and the Tuskegee Airmen.
154. Black History Month Virtual Gallery Tour – Host a virtual tour of major art galleries, museums, or exhibits dedicated to African-American history and art, and offer live discussions.

155. Explore the Role of Black Journalists – Highlight the work of Black journalists who have shaped the media landscape, from Ida B. Wells to contemporary reporters.
156. Create an African-American History Scavenger Hunt – Design a scavenger hunt that leads participants to learn about key moments in Black history, either virtually or within your local community.
157. African-American Community Leaders in Your Area – Research and present on the contributions of local Black leaders, past and present, in your community.
158. Study the Impact of Black Feminism – Explore the history and ongoing influence of Black feminism, including key figures like bell hooks, Audre Lorde, and Kimberlé Crenshaw.
159. Create a Documentary on Black History in Your Town – Produce a short film that explores the local history of Black communities and their impact on your town or city.
160. Black History Month STEM Project – Create a project showcasing the achievements of African-American inventors and scientists, from George Washington Carver to Dr. Mae Jemison.
161. Explore Black Resistance Movements – Study and present on the various forms of resistance within the Black community, from abolitionist movements to contemporary activism like the Black Lives Matter movement.
162. Celebrate Black History Month with a Storytelling Event – Host a storytelling event where local community members share their personal stories about Black history, family heritage, or civil rights.
163. Highlight Black Fashion Designers – Research and present on influential Black fashion designers, such as Ann Lowe, Dapper Dan, or Virgil Abloh, and their impact on fashion trends.
164. Host a Black History Month Charity Walk/Run – Organize a walk or run in support of a cause that supports Black communities, such as scholarships or social justice initiatives.
165. Create an African-American Historical Timeline – Develop a large physical or digital timeline that educates others on key moments in Black history from the 1800s to present day.
166. Study the Significance of Juneteenth – Research the history and importance of Juneteenth, the celebration of the emancipation of enslaved Black Americans, and share your findings during Black History Month.
167. Celebrate Black Pioneers in Healthcare – Present on pioneering Black figures in healthcare, from Dr. Charles Drew to Dr. Helen Octavia Dickens, and their contributions to medical science.
168. Create a Social Media Campaign on Black History – Launch a month-long social media campaign where you share educational posts, facts, quotes, and videos that highlight key events in Black history.
169. Study the African-American Experience in Literature – Research and present on the contributions of Black writers and poets, such as James Baldwin, Zora Neale Hurston, and Toni Morrison, to American literature.

170. The History of African-American Photography – Study the contributions of African-American photographers, such as Gordon Parks, and their role in documenting Black history and culture.
171. Create a Community Resource Guide for Black History Month – Develop and distribute a community guide with events, educational materials, local Black-owned businesses, and ways to get involved in Black history education.
172. Celebrate Black History Month with a Film Screening – Screen a selection of movies by or about African Americans, followed by a discussion of their cultural significance.
173. Host a Black History Month Yoga Class – Lead a community yoga class inspired by African-American yoga practitioners and spiritual leaders.
174. Study the Role of Black Women in Music – Explore the contributions of Black women to music, from the early blues legends to modern-day artists like Beyoncé, Rihanna, and Billie Holiday.
175. Black History in Space Exploration – Research and present on Black pioneers in space exploration, such as Guion S. Bluford Jr. and Mae Jemison, and their contributions to space science.
176. Host a Virtual Black History Month Trivia Night – Organize an online trivia event, where participants can test their knowledge on topics related to Black history, culture, and accomplishments.
177. Host a Black History Month Poetry Slam – Organize a poetry slam where participants can perform their original works inspired by Black history and culture.
178. Support a Black Artist by Commissioning Work – Commission or purchase artwork from a local Black artist to celebrate Black History Month and support their craft.
179. Study the Legacy of Black Architects – Present on the contributions of Black architects to the design of public spaces, housing, and monuments that reflect African-American history.
180. Black History Month Virtual Book Fair – Organize a virtual book fair that features literature by Black authors, with an emphasis on works related to history, culture, and empowerment.

See also 145+ Fresh & Best NHD Project Ideas for Your Next Assignment

Black History Month Project Ideas for Students

---

Looking for Black History Month project ideas for students? These creative projects will inspire learning and celebration of Black history and culture!

Research & Present Famous Figures

---

- Grade Level: High School, College, Middle School

- Description: Students can research notable Black figures in history (e.g., Harriet Tubman, Martin Luther King Jr., Maya Angelou, or James Baldwin) and present their life story, contributions, and impact on history through a multimedia presentation. Students could also explore lesser-known figures in history and share their contributions to society.

Creative Art Projects

---

- Grade Level: Elementary, Middle School, High School
- Description: Students can create portraits, murals, or posters that celebrate Black history figures, events, and culture. They can also create visual representations of key themes in Black history, such as equality, civil rights, and perseverance.

Oral Histories

---

- Grade Level: High School, College, Middle School
- Description: Students interview elders in their families or community members who have experienced historical moments in the Black community, such as the Civil Rights Movement or desegregation. They can document these interviews as written stories, videos, or podcasts.

Black History Timeline

---

- Grade Level: Elementary, Middle School, High School
- Description: Create a large visual timeline highlighting key moments in Black history, from the transatlantic slave trade to contemporary figures and movements (e.g., Black Lives Matter). Students can present their findings in groups and add visuals or artifacts that reflect each time period.

Black History Month Performance

---

- Grade Level: Elementary, High School, College
- Description: Students can work together to write and perform a play or skit based on an important historical event, speech, or story related to Black history. This could also be done as a poetry reading or music performance inspired by Black history.

See also 149+ Game-changer Waste Management Project Ideas

Black Culture Research Projects

---

- Grade Level: Middle School, High School, College
- Description: Research and present aspects of Black culture that have shaped music, art, literature, fashion, and food. Students can explore genres like jazz, hip-hop, soul, and reggae or focus on Black authors and filmmakers.

Community Outreach

---

- Grade Level: High School, College

- Description: Students can organize events that give back to the community, such as volunteering at local shelters or hosting fundraisers for causes related to social justice. These projects allow students to take action based on the values learned during Black History Month.

Black History Month Reflection Journal

---

- Grade Level: All Ages
- Description: Have students keep a journal during the month, reflecting on their learning experiences, writing about important Black figures they have learned about, and discussing how Black history has shaped their world view.

“Living History” Museum

---

- Grade Level: Elementary, Middle School, High School
- Description: Students take on the role of a notable Black historical figure and present a “living history” museum exhibit. They could dress up as their character, act out their life story, and provide interactive elements for other students to learn from.

Black History Month Activities for Elementary Students

---

- Storytelling: Have a storytelling session featuring children’s books by Black authors, such as “Hair Love” by Matthew A. Cherry or “The Undeclared” by Kwame Alexander.
- Black History Bingo: Create bingo cards with names of Black historical figures, events, and landmarks. Students can learn about the individuals as they play the game.
- Craft Activities: Have students create handprint art or flags representing countries with a significant Black history.

See also 112+ Inspiring Water Cycle Project Ideas!

Black History Month Event Ideas for College Students

---

- Panel Discussion or Lecture: Host an event with guest speakers who are experts on Black history, culture, or current social justice issues.
- Movie Screening: Show a documentary or film about Black history or notable figures, such as 13th or Selma, followed by a discussion.
- Community Collaboration: Collaborate with local organizations to hold an event that celebrates Black culture through food, music, and art.

For Teachers

---

- Curriculum Integration: Teachers can integrate Black history throughout the curriculum—math problems based on Black mathematicians, science projects focused on Black scientists, and literature lessons that highlight Black authors.

- Black History Month Quiz or Contest: Host a school-wide trivia contest on Black history.
- Invite Guest Speakers: Bring local Black historians, activists, or artists to speak with students.

40 Black History Month Activities

---

Looking for 40 Black History Month activities? These engaging ideas will help students explore, celebrate, and learn about the rich history and culture of Black communities!

1. Black History Month Bingo

---

Description: Create a bingo card with famous Black historical figures, events, and cultural milestones. As students or participants learn about them, they can mark off each item on the card.

2. “Living History” Museum

---

Description: Students dress up and perform as famous historical figures from Black history, giving short monologues to explain their life and significance.

3. Read-Aloud of Books by Black Authors

---

Description: Read books by Black authors such as The Snowy Day by Ezra Jack Keats, The Undefeated by Kwame Alexander, or The Color Purple by Alice Walker.

4. Black History Month Poster Contest

---

Description: Have students design posters featuring important Black figures, quotes, or events. The posters can be displayed around school or community spaces.

5. Movie Night Screening

---

Description: Host a movie night with films that highlight Black history, such as Selma, Hidden Figures, or The Butler, followed by a group discussion.

6. Create a Timeline of Black History

---

Description: Have students or participants work together to create a visual timeline highlighting key events in Black history, from the civil rights movement to present day.

7. Poetry Slam

---

Description: Host a poetry slam where students or community members perform spoken word poetry about Black history, culture, or social justice.

8. “Black Wall Street” Virtual Tour

---

Description: Take students on a virtual tour of the Greenwood District, known as “Black Wall Street,” in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Discuss its historical significance and the tragic 1921 massacre.

9. Black History Month Word Search

---

Description: Create a word search puzzle using names of famous Black leaders, events, and cultural terms related to Black history.

10. Research and Present a Black Leader

---

Description: Assign students to research a prominent Black leader (e.g., Malcolm X, Harriet Tubman, or Shirley Chisholm) and present their findings.

11. Write Letters to Influential Figures

---

Description: Have students write letters of appreciation to living figures they admire, such as current Black leaders or community activists.

12. African Dance Workshop

---

Description: Organize a dance workshop where participants can learn traditional African dances and understand their cultural significance.

13. Art Showcase Featuring Black Artists

---

Description: Curate an exhibition of works by Black artists, such as Jacob Lawrence, Faith Ringgold, or Kerry James Marshall. Have participants create their own art in the same spirit.

14. Black History Month Scavenger Hunt

---

Description: Set up a scavenger hunt with clues related to Black history, asking participants to find specific books, images, or historical facts around the classroom or community.

15. Black History Month Quiz or Trivia

---

Description: Host a trivia game with questions about Black historical figures, cultural achievements, and significant events.

16. Virtual Speaker Sessions

---

Description: Invite local Black community leaders or historians to speak about Black history, culture, or social issues.

17. Celebrate Black Music and Its Impact

---

Description: Play music from Black artists across genres like jazz, blues, hip-hop, and R&B. Discuss how music has played a role in the civil rights movement and continues to shape culture.

18. Donate to Black Charities

---

Description: Encourage giving back by organizing a donation drive for organizations that support the Black community, such as the United Negro College Fund or local Black community groups.

19. African American Inventors Day

---

Description: Discuss the incredible contributions of Black inventors such as Garrett Morgan (traffic lights) and Madame C.J. Walker (hair care products). Have kids create their own invention ideas.

20. Build a Library of Black Literature

---

Description: Collect and organize a library of books written by Black authors or books about Black history and culture for students to read throughout the month.

21. Host a Black History Month Potluck

---

Description: Host a potluck with traditional dishes from different African American and African cultures, encouraging participants to learn about the food and its cultural significance.

22. Create a “Trailblazer Wall”

---

Description: Set up a bulletin board or wall that showcases influential Black people in various fields (e.g., politics, entertainment, sports). Students can add a new figure each day.

23. Black History Month Digital Storytelling

---

Description: Use digital tools to create a video or slideshow presentation on a specific Black historical figure, event, or movement.

24. Study Black Artists in Museums

---

Description: Take a field trip to a local museum or explore online exhibits that focus on Black artists, such as the National Museum of African American History and Culture.

25. Learning About the Harlem Renaissance

---

Description: Discuss the Harlem Renaissance and its cultural impact. Students can learn about artists like Langston Hughes, Zora Neale Hurston, and Josephine Baker.

26. Discuss the Impact of the Black Panther Party

---

Description: Teach about the Black Panther Party's role in Black activism and its impact on both civil rights and social justice movements.

27. Learn African American Sign Language

---

Description: Explore the history and culture of African American Sign Language (AASL) through lessons or videos.

28. Black History Month Bulletin Board

---

Description: Create a vibrant bulletin board with key historical moments, figures, and quotes. Change it periodically to include new information.

29. Watch & Discuss Civil Rights Documentaries

---

Description: Watch documentaries on the Civil Rights Movement, such as Eyes on the Prize or 13th, and discuss the historical context and current relevance.

30. Create a "Black History Heroes" Trading Cards

---

Description: Have kids design trading cards featuring different Black heroes from history. Each card can include information on the person's life and contributions.

31. Learn About Black History in Other Countries

---

Description: Take a global approach and explore Black history in other countries, such as the Caribbean, South Africa, or Brazil.

32. Host a Black History Month Talent Show

---

Description: Encourage students to showcase talents such as poetry, music, dance, or drama that celebrate Black culture.

33. Watch "The Black Power Mixtape"

---

Description: Show the documentary The Black Power Mixtape, which offers insights into Black activism during the 1960s and 1970s. Follow it with a discussion.

34. Learn About the Underground Railroad

---

Description: Educate students about the Underground Railroad with a hands-on activity where they create maps or reenact the journey of an escaped slave.

35. Study Black Women's History

---

Description: Focus on the extraordinary achievements of Black women in history. Activities can include research projects, presentations, or classroom discussions about figures like Sojourner Truth, Audre Lorde, and Michelle Obama.

36. Watch “The Color Purple” and Discuss

---

Description: Watch The Color Purple and hold a discussion on the themes of racism, sexism, and resilience.

37. Write Black History Month Reflection Journals

---

Description: Have students reflect on their learning throughout the month and write in journals about the impact of Black history on their understanding of the world.

38. Organize a Black History Month Parade

---

Description: Host a parade or march where students, staff, or community members dress as important Black historical figures, carrying banners with their names and contributions.

39. Black History Month Virtual Tour

---

Description: Take a virtual tour of historically Black landmarks, museums, or heritage sites, like the Martin Luther King Jr. National Historic Site.

40. Host a Black History Month Talent Show

---

Description: Encourage community members or students to showcase their artistic talents, including singing, dancing, and acting, in celebration of Black culture and history.

13 Meaningful Black History Month Activities for Kids

---

Looking for meaningful Black History Month activities for kids? These 13 fun and educational ideas will help young minds explore and celebrate Black history and culture!

1. Craft a Black History Month Quilt: Have kids create paper squares with pictures of influential Black figures, then assemble the squares into a collaborative quilt.
2. African Mask Craft: Teach kids about African art and have them create their own colorful masks using construction paper and other craft supplies.
3. Black History Month Bookmarks: Create bookmarks with quotes from Black historical figures or artwork that celebrates Black culture.
4. Coloring Pages with Black Historical Figures: Provide coloring sheets featuring portraits of iconic Black figures, such as Nelson Mandela, Maya Angelou, and Malcolm X.
5. Explore African Folktales: Read African folktales to children and discuss their lessons, encouraging them to create their own folktale or story.

6. Sing Black History Month Songs: Teach kids songs from the civil rights movement, like “We Shall Overcome,” or modern songs that reflect Black history.
7. Black History Month Trivia Game: Organize a trivia contest based on facts about Black history, focusing on fun and educational facts.
8. Create a Black History Month Collage: Have kids cut out pictures or words from magazines to make a collage that celebrates Black achievements.
9. Learn About African American Holidays: Teach kids about Juneteenth and other celebrations of Black history and freedom, helping them understand why they’re important.
10. Black Inventor Show-and-Tell: Each child could choose a Black inventor and present their inventions to the class.
11. African American Music Exploration: Introduce kids to different genres of Black music (jazz, blues, gospel, hip-hop), and have them create their own music.
12. Kids’ Documentary Screening: Watch a kid-friendly documentary about Black history or culture, like The March or A People’s History of the United States.
13. Create a Timeline of Black History: Let kids draw a simple timeline of Black history, including key events and important people.

Remarks

---

Black History Month is more than just a time for reflection; it is a call to action. By learning about Black history, we can better understand the struggles and achievements that continue to shape society. It’s essential to acknowledge the stories of resilience and determination that have been passed down through generations. By sharing these stories, we promote awareness and inspire change. As we celebrate, let’s remember that Black history is not just for one month—it’s a part of our everyday lives. Keep exploring, keep learning, and let the lessons of Black history guide us to a more inclusive and just future.

Adam Tesla

Adam Tesla is a creative thinker with 5 years of experience in providing unique and engaging project ideas across various categories and niches. His expertise lies in simplifying complex topics and presenting fresh, innovative concepts that inspire students, professionals, and entrepreneurs.

Post navigation
← Previous Post
Next Post →

Related Posts

---

Leave a Comment

---

Your email address will not be published. Required fields are marked *